Call to Action

When we give back to our community, we tighten the fabric that binds us all together. Thank you for joining us today as we share with you a view of the City of Sebastopol as seen from the perspective of the nonprofit organizations that work so hard to meet our community's needs.

The Sebastopol Community Needs Summit is an opportunity to learn about the great work our local nonprofits are doing and to participate in and support their efforts. In the spirit of strengthening the bonds that make us a compassionate and connected community, we at the City of Sebastopol join with local service organizations in urging you to listen, ask questions, and find a way that you can participate in giving back to our community. We hope that the Community Needs Summit sparks a personal awareness of the great work that nonprofits do in our community and an appreciation for the everyday folks that make amazing things happen for those who need help the most.

With support from our Sebastopol community, we have an opportunity to meet the demand of our unprecedented times. Natural disasters and the pandemic have left our nonprofits needing more support than ever before. If there was ever a time to enhance the vitality of our community, the time to act is now.

Join us! Sebastopol is ready for you to plug in and help where you may. If you are already helping, see what you can do to bring other people along.

PROFILES FOR NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

Analy Band Wagon

P.O. Box 2154
Casey Jones / Michael Ost
cjones@wscuhsd.org

Visit Analy Band Wagon Website

Analy Band Wagon and Casey Jones are excited to be developing an after-school music program for elementary and middle school students in West Sonoma County. This program is in the planning stages, with a target rollout date of October 2021. We hope to utilize support from Creative Sonoma, and Music from Schools through the Luther Burbank Center (which has an instrument bank). We are looking for funding sources to help with hiring and insurance costs. Planning, outreach, and advertising are necessary to build an accessible after-school program that supports schools in the West County!

Brook Haven Middle School

7905 Valentine Ave
Sara Gramm
sgramm@sebusd.org

Brook Haven School
MIDDLE (GRADES 5-8)

Visit Brook Haven Middle School Website

Brook Haven Middle School is home to Sebastopol Union School District's fifth- through eighth-grade students. The school has been an integral part of the local community for over 50 years. It is a hub for community events, and is the quintessential neighborhood school. Rigorous academics coupled with enrichment programs foster the development of well-rounded students at Brook Haven. In addition to academic classes, we offer physical education, STEM enrichment, band, choir, video production, woodshop, art, and opportunities for students to take leadership roles and to act as tutors and teacher's assistants. We offer a full athletics program, many student clubs and activities, and the TOOLBOX social-emotional curriculum. Brook Haven prides itself on supporting the whole child in a diverse and welcoming environment.

Burbank Heights and Orchards

7777 Bodega Avenue
Kenyatta Jackson
bho5@jsco.net

Visit Burbank Heights and Orchards Website

Burbank Heights and Orchards offers affordable housing in Sebastopol. The John Stewart Company manages Burbank Heights and Orchards through two Resident Services Coordinators, who help residents connect with resources. Residents are low income seniors. Assistance provided by various partners includes subsidies to cover utility bills, as well as funding to pay for needed prescriptions. We need help finding additional resources in the community for our residents, who at this point in their lives need to be able to turn to their community for support.

California Homemakers Association

468 Yolanda Ave. #102, Santa Rosa
Erica Diamond
erica.katya@gmail.com

California
Homemakers Association

Visit California Homemakers Association Website

California Homemakers Association organizes low-income workers to address poverty conditions. We advocate for living wages for caregivers and other low-income workers. We advocate for the implementation of Sustainable Development Goals, including ending poverty and combating climate change. We need volunteers who can organize emergency and supplemental food distributions, medical sessions, legal advocacy sessions, and advocate on behalf of low-income workers to reverse policies that cause financial hardship, endanger health and well-being, and degrade the environment.

Centro Laboral de Graton
G r a t o n D A Y L A B O R C e n t e r

Visit Centro Laboral de Graton Website

Centro Laboral de Graton is a worker-led day labor center that organizes with domestic workers and day laborers in West Sonoma County for the advancement of their rights and dignity as workers, as immigrants, and as members of the broader community. Programs include leadership development and civic participation, health access and education, just and dignified job placement, occupational safety and health training, vocational training, rights education, and English instruction. CLG also serves as a base of support and a place where solidarity and friendships flourish. The Center is an active resource, embedded in the local community. Centro Laboral de Graton takes a holistic approach to serving day laborers and domestic workers.

Ceres Community Project

7351 Bodega Avenue
Cathryn Couch
info@ceresproject.org

Visit Ceres Community Project Website

Ceres Community Project has three focus areas: (1) ensuring that low-income medically fragile people have medically appropriate meals and other food support, including those who are housing insecure, (2) providing youth ages 14+ with opportunities to gain skills, develop leadership, and learn how their food choices can help them, their community and the planet, and (3) engage people of all ages and from all walks of life in finding meaningful ways to contribute to one another. In 2020 we provided 184,000 medically tailored meals to 1500+ clients and their families. Annually we engage 400+ youth in 20,000 hours of work readiness, leadership development, gardening, culinary and food system education. We engage 600+ adult volunteers annually. We are in the process of scaling our work and continue to need funds, adult volunteers, and youth volunteers.

Community Foundation Sonoma County

120 Stony Point Rd, Suite 220
Karin Demarest / Elizabeth Brown
kdemarest@sonomacf.org

Visit Community Foundation Sonoma County Website

Community Foundation Sonoma County has the following focus areas: housing, youth, mental health, and homelessness. As a Community Foundation, we are addressing these issues on a county-wide scale through grant funding and our work beyond the grant, by convening organizations, collecting and disseminating data and sharing information with donors. We are a foundation with funding primarily from endowments. We collaborate with many entities all over the county. We also distribute funding based on the intent of our donors.

Community Market

6762 Sebastopol Ave
Lisa Waltenspiel / Courtney Williams
lisa@cmnaturalfoods.com

Visit Community Market Website

Community Market has the following focus areas: food insecurity/underserved groups, alternative transportation, and sustainable agriculture. We address these issues by partnering with community groups such as the California Homemakers Association, by partnering with Bicycle Coalition, and by partnering with local farms, featuring 100% organic produce. We are a not for profit, worker run organization operating a retail establishment. We partner with several local organizations on fundraising and donations to social justice causes. We appreciate collaborations with other community groups to raise funds and bring awareness to the issues previously listed. We look forward to hosting events in the future to bring folks together in service of our community.

Community Matters

120 Stony Point Rd. Suite 120
Erica Vogel
erica@community-matters.org

Visit Community Matters Website

Community Matters' flagship program, Safe School Ambassadors, helps schools identify and train diverse student leaders to stand up and speak up to mistreatment in all forms. We have provided services to West County schools for many years. Those services include Restorative Practice training for school staff, Safe School Ambassadors, LGBTQI Ally Youth program, Empowering Student Athletes as Leaders training, professional development, and other youth programming. During COVID we provided Zoom Upstander training and opportunities for youth to connect with each other in a pro-social positive way. Our flagship program, Safe School Ambassadors, helps schools identify and train diverse student leaders to stand up and speak up to mistreatment in all forms. Funding is the biggest issue for us. We are also in the process of developing a volunteer program.

Daily Acts Organization

245 Kentucky Street, Petaluma
Liz Platte-Bermeo / Trathen
Heckman
liz@dailyacts.org

Visit Daily Acts Organization Website

Daily Acts has the following focus areas: water-conservation, community education, and climate change. We host educational workshops (online and in-person) to educate and demonstrate DIY solutions, and we participated in Petaluma's first climate action plan and committee. We work with local and regional partners to bring in expert presenters. Daily Acts is primarily funded through city contracts or aligned grants. In Sebastopol in particular, having a contract to provide a certain amount of talks, tours, workshops, and installations would allow us to have more of a presence in the city. We also see an opportunity to connect with community allies, individuals, companies, and organizations with shared values, to improve our work and our ability to reach a wider audience to share resources and event dates.

El Molino High School

7050 Covey Road
Matt Dunkle
mdunkle@wscuhsd.org

El Molino High School provides a high-quality education focused on helping students maximize their potential and achieve lifelong goals. To reach this objective, El Molino High School fosters an appreciation of diversity and respect and empowers students to make informed judgments, accept responsibility for their actions, grow intellectually, achieve academic success, and practice the social skills necessary to be productive members of the world community.

Experience Sebastopol

390 Morris St
Jessica Woodall-Massey
jessica@seb.org

Sebastopol Community Cultural Center's Experience Sebastopol website allows visitors and locals to know what is happening in the community. The website will soon include a business search option, which will be especially useful for visitors who want to plan their day in Sebastopol. We would like to see more businesses/programs/non-profits posting their events on the website, in order to make it a resource that the people of Sebastopol can rely on when they know what is happening in town.

Food For Thought

PO Box 1608
Karen Gardner / Ron Karp
kareng@fftfoodbank.org

Visit Food For Thought Website

Food For Thought provides healthy, comprehensive nutrition services to people impacted by HIV, COVID-19, congestive heart failure, and other illnesses, including about 50 low-income, food-insecure Sebastopol residents. Food For Thought exists today because of a grassroots, collaborative effort, and to this day we engage in many community-wide initiatives in order to maximize the effectiveness of our programs. We belong to the Sonoma County Food System Alliance, a coalition of diverse stakeholders working to improve our food system through community engagement and collective action. We are limited in how many people we can serve mainly by finances and physical capacity. Every $7.15 we raise means we can provide one more meal to a low-income, seriously ill person in need. Our Forestville capacity is bursting at the seams. We are hoping to add on a new location in 2021-2022, and are in need of funding for that expansion.

Forestville Union School District

FORESTVILLE
Union School District

Visit Forestville Union School District Website

We are looking for community partners to support our students and families in crisis, particularly with mental health issues. We are looking to increase hours for our school psychologist, counselor, and for intervention. We do our best to fund these efforts, through our general fund and special one time money from the state and federal government. We also will continue to partner with the Sonoma County Office of Education and other community partners (West County Health Centers) when available. But existing funding is not enough to meet the substantial need we see in our student body. Having ongoing funds and trained professionals in wrap-around medical and mental health services available for referral for parents and students in need would be ideal.

Generation Housing

1275 Fourth St. #179, Santa Rosa
info@generationhousing.org

Visit Generation Housing Website

Generation Housing is focused on increasing the supply of affordable housing for lower income families, as well as increasing the supply of all kinds of housing for families at all income levels. We produce educational events to inform the broader community about housing issues, and advocate for housing developments and pro-housing policies that help address our housing shortage. We launched a public will building campaign to shift the narrative about the importance and community benefits of having more inclusive neighborhoods in which all of our friends, families, and neighbors have affordable homes. Gen H produces research and offers technical assistance about housing policies, and convene cross-sector stakeholders to create a pro-housing common agenda. We are interested in amplifying the message and our outreach to the community about the importance, need, and benefits of having more affordable housing.

Gravenstein Health Action
COALITION

Visit Gravenstein Health Action Coalition Website

The Gravenstein Health Action Coalition is a collaboration of local organizations, agencies and individuals working together to support policy, system and environmental change, in order to improve health outcomes of all residents of West County Sonoma. We mobilize community partnerships and resources to achieve equity and improve the health, safety and wellbeing for all in West Sonoma County. GHAC conducts community assessment using the Self Healing Communities model, hosts an Age Friendly monthly group, and participates in Connections, Capacity, and Change. We collaborate with many agencies, and are looking forward to working with ACES Network grant program to get assistance in organizing and interviewing selected groups in our local west County community.

Gravenstein Union School District

Visit Gravenstein Union School District Website

Gravenstein Union High School District is focused on the following goals: (1) Mental Health: bolstering our on-campus offerings as well as community partnerships for referrals/warm hand-offs; (2) Environment: Support for household connectivity/device access for families that will continue with distance learning. To meet these goals on behalf of our students and their families, we need funding to add mental health campus space (when we return we currently do not have space for our staff to meet with students in-person), and we would like to increase our connections and knowledge of community partner resources.

Hallberg Butterfly Gardens

8687 Oak Grove Ave
Donald Mahoney / Meghan Ewing
info@hallbergbutterflygardens.org

Hallberg Butterfly Gardens

Visit Hallberg Butterfly Gardens Website

Hallberg Butterfly Gardens is dedicated to: (1) enhancing connections to nature as an essential and often overlooked aspect critical to the quality of human life, (2) stewardship of private and public lands to support the effects of habitat loss and climate change, (3) accessible information and community science, and (4) a sustainable future. We plant mostly native plants focused on supporting the full lifecycle of butterflies and other pollinators. We open our gardens for school and public tours, workshops, community science, and plant sales. We have historically offered presentations to local classrooms. We offer butterfly conservation presentations online and informative videos on our website. We support volunteer opportunities with HBG, and help direct people to other resources, organizations, and natural preserves. Funds and volunteers are at the top of our needs list. With an increase in funds, we could better maintain the Gardens and expand our services. Increasing our volunteers would also help us maintain the Gardens, expand our services and reach our goal of providing a social network and resource space for our community.

Harmony Union School District

1935 Bohemian Hwy Occidental
Matthew Morgan / Stacy Kalember
mmorgan@harmonyusd.org /
skalember@harmonyusd.org

Visit Harmony Union School District Website

Harmony Union School District covers Occidental, Camp Meeker, Bodega and West Sebastopol. Our focus is on education, family services, nutrition, and mental health. We provide education and support services for our families, including counseling, nutrition and other family services as needed. Our efforts would benefit from collaboration with other important agencies in the area: West County Health Centers, the food kitchen, athletics organizations, family legal aid, etc. Connecting services throughout the community for students and families is essential for us. As a specific project that needs funding right now, $150,000 would give us a fully funded cafeteria and garden.

Impact 100 Redwood Circle

120 Stony Pt Rd, Ste 220, Santa Rosa
Suzy Marzalek / Cindy Schmidt
suzymarz@gmail.com

Visit Impact 100 Redwood Circle Website

Impact 100 Redwood Circle is a women's giving circle. This year we will award $225,000 in grants to Sonoma County nonprofits. We award our grants based on rigorous grant application and decision processes. Our focus is arts & culture, health/community betterment, education, environment/parks/sustainability/recreation. Our grants are funded by member donations to our grant fund. We want to have a significant and sustainable impact on our community through our grantmaking. We are always in search of insights and education on the greatest needs in Sonoma County and how/by whom those needs are being addressed. That would help guide our work.

Interact Youth Leadership Program (Rotary Club of Sebastopol)

10025 Cherry Ridge Road
Pauline Pellini
paulinepellini@gmail.com

Visit Rotary Club of Sebastopol Website

Interact is a service club for young people ages 12-18 who want to be involved in their local community and around the world. It is supported and mentored by the Rotary Club of Sebastopol. Interact members join together to tackle issues in their community. Students learn leadership skills, citizenship, teamwork, organization, and project coordination. They are responsible for planning, financing, organizing, and carrying out their own activities and projects. Both Brook Haven and Twin Hills Middle Schools have active Interact Clubs. In 2019-20, these students engaged in a variety of projects, including (among others) a coat drive for the homeless, making blankets for The Living Room, helping at local events, and donating the money from their fundraising events to Ceres, the Interfaith Pantry, and to pay for yearbooks for students who couldn't afford them. Both Clubs took part in the Adopt-A-Family program, providing gifts and good cheer, delivered by fire truck, to needy families at the holidays.

Laguna de Santa Rosa Foundation

900 Sanford Road, Santa Rosa
Anne Morkill
anne.morkill@lagunafoundation.org

Visit Laguna de Santa Rosa Foundation Website

The Laguna de Santa Rosa Foundation works with partners such as the City of Sebastopol and others on the restoration and conservation of wetland habitats in the Laguna Wetlands Preserve and other public and private properties with wetlands and tributary creeks that connect to the Laguna de Santa Rosa, including community stewardship and environmental education activities. Some of the community issues relating to our work include trash and garbage debris, unauthorized homeless encampments, and general lack of awareness by residents about the Laguna watershed. Annual funding of approx. $80,000 would enable us to be very effective in providing stewardship support for the Laguna Wetlands Preserve. We could hire the staff needed to coordinate our volunteer group and to take on grant writing and management duties.

Laguna High School

445 Taft St
Allie Greene / Toni Beal
agreene@wscuhd.org

Laguna High School serves students at risk of not graduating from high school. Our students are predominantly low income, and live in generational poverty. We provide life and academic skills to our students. We have the highest percentage of foster/homeless youth and of Special Education students in West Sonoma County. We have developed a new curriculum that represents a shift in the way we educate our students. It involves five courses. Each is project based and interdisciplinary, which means that the students learn throughout the planning and implementation of a larger project. Rather than learning about a subject, then doing a project at the end of the unit to represent the culmination of the learning, students plan their own learning throughout the unit with the teacher as a guide. The courses are also not designated as in a particular discipline, such as English and Math, which means the students will earn high school credits in multiple areas because the course covers content standards in those multiple core areas. We are in the process of working with industry partners to create partnerships for our students to learn the soft skills kids need in the workplace.

LandPaths

618 4th Street, Suite 217
Claire McMurtry / Craig Anderson
claire@landpaths.org

LandPaths reaches over 6,000 people annually with programming and volunteer opportunities that foster a love of the land. We grow community through nature with volunteer stewardship opportunities and seasonal celebrations. We root youth in nature with school-based and summer camp nature education programs that include standards-based learning, and we branch out conservation for everyone with public outings, Spanish-language programming, and opportunities for those historically excluded from the outdoors to access the benefits of time in nature. LandPaths seeks volunteer involvement regularly to steward the 2,800 acres in our care across the County; our fundraising efforts are ongoing and urgent, funds from $5,000 to $25,000 are currently sought to provide summer camp scholarships and keep the 30% increase in costs to run camp during covid from being paid by families, and to recover and restore habitat on our two preserves that burned in the Glass and Walbridge Fires in 2020.

Lantern

569 Cleveland Avenue
Stephen Zollman
szollman1@gmail.com

Lantern's mission is to increase the size of the Sebastopol Regional Library in order to improve educational opportunities, as well as opportunities to address social justice issues in the community. Our current library is very small and limits our flexibility and the breadth of our services. A larger library would allow partnerships with other nonprofits and governmental agencies, both locally and County-wide. We are hoping to expand support for a capital campaign for the library, through greater communication and partnerships.

Luther Burbank Experiment Farm (Western Sonoma County Historical Society)

7909 Washington Ave
Gail Lee / Teresa Ramondo
glee7909@sonic.net

LUTHER BURBANK EXPERIMENT FARM

Visit Luther Burbank Experiment Farm Website

The Luther Burbank Experiment Farm provides educational opportunities to the general public and local schools, on the legacy of Luther Burbank. The Historical Society is the parent organization for the Farm. We offer docent tours of the three acre property and of the small cottage which houses a small exhibit. We are developing the nursery to propagate specific unique plants. We make various plants available for sale to the public. Pre-Covid we offered tours, activities, and tree plantings for several local school groups, as well as tours, events, and open houses to the public. We are in need of docent volunteers to lead tours of the grounds. We need funding for outreach, to buy supplies, and to maintain and improve the property in the orchard (replacing aging fruit trees and Shasta daisies that have been destroyed by gophers). We would love to add an outdoor amphitheater area to enhance our educational opportunities by providing a space to demonstrate grafting and plantings. We would also be interested in partnering with other local groups such as the Master Gardeners and Rare Fruit Growers to co-host plant-related events.

Main Stage West

104 N Main St
contact@mainstagewest.com

Visit Main Stage West Website

Main Stage West offers theatrical productions for the enjoyment of the West County community. We also have a popular program for youth that introduces them to the joys of the theater. Although we have been closed due to Covid, we hope to open again in the Fall (health department rules allowing). Once open, we hope to revive our Sebastopol Shakespeare Festival, and would be very interested in a location other than Ives Park (which was a bit distracting and noisy for a theater event). Our biggest challenge, however, is space. It would be a game changer to have an old barn or warehouse to use as a shop to build sets. A rehearsal space would be equally wonderful, and storage space for our sets and costumes would make a huge difference.

Visit Sebastopol Fire Department Website

The Map Your Neighborhood Program (MYN) is supported by the Sebastopol Fire Department, which also supports the Sebastopol Neighborhood Communications Unit (SNCU). The goal of MYN is to educate neighborhood leaders and the goal of SNCU is to provide back-up communications at the neighborhood or community level. These efforts are facilitated by our Public Safety Outreach Coordinator, who works with volunteers from both groups. We collaborate with the Gravenstein Health Action Coalition to support the MYN Leader Council. Our efforts to expand the Map Your Neighborhood program and the Sebastopol Neighborhood Communications Unit would be improved by funding for broader marketing and promotion of the classes and meetings that we offer to the community. We welcome increased collaboration and continued discussions on ways to improve our community's resilience and emergency preparedness.

Monte Rio School

20700 Foothill Dr
Nathan Myers
nmyers@monteriousd.org

Visit Monte Rio School Website

Monte Rio School's students and families face many challenges that make serving their needs difficult. Affordable housing is lacking, due in part to competition with out-of-town investors. Basic health care needs are often unmet because even with amazing outreach efforts, many people still do not take advantage of the available health options offered. Providing educational services to students is challenging because some parents/families do not understand the positive impact their volunteerism can have, nor do they understand the importance of school attendance. We constantly send emails, newsletters and robo-calls to our community to remind them of our services.

Mr. Music Foundation puts on the Peacetown Summer Concert Series at Ives Park. The concerts have volunteer help from the Love Choir and we feature a local nonprofit organization each week to help support their efforts. Project Whole Child runs our Family Village. We also provide music teachers to local schools and help organizations book local musicians for events. We would like assistance in bringing back our Peacetown Concerts as soon as safely possible, along with other live music events. If and when we are given the go-ahead to resume concerts, we will immediately need funding to pay for bands and sound along with other expenses. We can always use more volunteers!

North Bay Construction Corps

Visit North Bay Construction Corps Website

The North Bay Construction Corps partners with the construction industry to provide high school seniors with construction career exploration and basic skill building. We help youth find their career path, whether it is construction or another industry. Our program is free to all students. We have recently made changes to attract more women to participate. High school seniors in the program meet weekly from January to mid-May to get training directly from contractors and others in the construction industry, and then participate in a two-week "real construction project." We rely on community support to provide this program free of charge. We do not receive any government grants. We look to industry members, community organizations such as the Sebastopol Rotary Education Foundation, local school education foundations and Rebuild North Bay Foundation. This year, our fifth year, we are in the middle of a fundraising campaign that will include the entities just mentioned, plus a stronger effort to secure private and public grant funding. We need to raise at least $300,000 over the next three years to continue providing this program to students and industry.

Pleasant Hill Christian School

Visit Pleasant Hill Christian School Website

Pleasant Hill Christian School sees education and faith as key community issues that need to be addressed. We are a Christian school and are supported completely by donations and tuition. We do not receive any government support. Our primary challenges (and needs) are financial, and can be met by increased enrollment or by additional donations.

Project Whole Child

Visit Project Whole Child Website

Project Whole Child's focus areas include strengthening communities, child abuse and neglect prevention, and supporting positive childhood experiences. We are hoping to obtain funding to continue our work, and we are also interested in being incorporated into an existing nonprofit that would offer the resources and support necessary to expand our efforts in order to better meet the needs we see in the community.

Reach Charter School

Visit Reach Charter School Website

The REACH School is a creative, liberal arts charter school in Sebastopol that supports the emerging child in becoming a whole person through the integration of strong academics, creative arts, and community involvement in an environment that fosters acceptance of and respect for self and others. We have a Project Based Learning approach that encourages collaboration, design/creation and problem solving. We practice Positive Discipline and integrate Social and Emotional Learning into our curriculum. We offer enrichment opportunities throughout the year for Art, Music, Poetry, and numerous annual field trips to destinations local and further. We have an independent study program that caters to students and parents wishing to merge more parent/student driven education with home-based activities and lessons. We offer Aftercare for students from TK through 4th for families who need flexible hours.

Redwood Empire Food Bank distributes food through our own programs and our partner organizations in Sonoma, Lake, Mendocino, Humboldt, and Del Norte counties. As the largest hunger-relief organization in our area, we work on the front lines of emergency food assistance in our region, playing a crucial role in helping individuals, families, seniors, and children. We serve our communities through three initiatives. Every Child, Every Day includes four robust programs that address the nutritional needs of children, targeting both schools and seasonal meal gaps. Senior Security serves a monthly average of 4,300 low-income seniors healthy, fresh food across our five-county region. Neighborhood Hunger Network strives to improve the health and well-being of our community with food and nutrition education. In order to keep up with the increase in food demand, we need volunteer support daily, food donations and monetary donations.

The Sebastopol Senior Center sees the following issues as pressing for our senior population: isolation and the need for resources/referrals, food insecurity, and transportation needs. We have a phone buddy program to provide regular check in/wellness calls for isolated seniors. We offer virtual classes/activities/support groups, and we field inquiries and provide resources and information on a variety of issues, from caregiving resources to vaccine information and more. We deliver approximately 800 meals per week to 120 seniors, helping immuno-compromised seniors to reduce shopping trips, and getting free meals to low income seniors. Our volunteer drivers provide free rides, getting seniors to doctor appointments, grocery shopping, and more. As to our needs, additional funding would allow us to continue to provide quality services, and to cover the costs of reopening (for safety/health measures such as sanitizing stations, PPE, etc). We are also in need of volunteers - for the front desk/front office, as well as more drivers.

The Sebastopol Area Time Bank is a way for community members to provide SERVICES to other community members through "requests" and "offers" that form the basis of an "exchange" -- with no money changing hands. We bring together like-minded individuals for connection and social events, too. The Time Bank is run by volunteers who help our members use our website to record requests, offers and exchanges. We have gone through a change of leadership and are fine-tuning our processes and direction. We need two things: First, we need members to feel comfortable again interacting with other members to get their needs met. We need to return to pre-pandemic times! Second, we need other community organizations to be aware of and let their constituencies know about the Sebastopol Area Time Bank. Membership is free!

Sebastopol Center for the Arts

282 S. High Street
Catherine Devriese
catherined@sebarts.org

Sebastopol Center for the Arts focuses on arts & creative education and on the environment (integration and equity). We offer a distance learning program for educationally at risk children, in collaboration with a local school district. Subsidies we offer to students in need makes our distance learning and camp programs available at almost no cost. We offer continuing education in various forms for all ages. Our exhibition program, poetry, and film programming runs year-round. Our visual arts exhibits this year have had an environmental theme (some exhibits titles include: Ecstasy Beauty of Nature, Trees, Recycling). Our exhibits include entries from many cultures and our staff is multicultural. The current pressing need we face is for funding to expand our outreach in order to engage more of the public with our programs, and additional funding to hire program staff and a volunteer coordinator. Volunteers to help with grounds and facility maintenance would also be very helpful.

Sebastopol Chamber of Commerce

Sebastopol Chamber of Commerce serves the business community in a number of ways. We provide Covid-related information and updates on upcoming tax increases. We support new businesses coming into Sebastopol and work with existing businesses that are struggling. We are looking forward to the time when we can once again host a live Apple Blossom Parade and Festival. We conduct outreach to businesses to see how they are doing and learn what they may need from us; we hope to gather more of this data and information and distribute it to the greater business community. We have been awarded grant funds to assist in keeping our business community informed. The Chamber of Commerce is run by one employee, with one very part time (2 hours a week) volunteer. It would be beneficial to have two more volunteers to assist in the office.

The Sebastopol Community Cultural Center sees a need for equitable access to resources for the youth in our community, and is particularly interested in addressing the learning loss and mental health issues that arose during the COVID pandemic. SCCC's revitalized Teen Center, with an advisory board of young community members, will help steer the programming and support systems needed during the COVID crisis recovery period and beyond. The original Teen Center model was a collaborative effort between the Community Center, the Sebastopol Library and additional community members with guidance from the Chops Teen Center in Santa Rosa. We will continue to foster these relationships and will look for additional resources as well. At this time we need 10 to 15 qualified adult volunteers to support the tutoring and mentoring needs of the participating youth.

The Sebastopol Downtown Association has a number of ideas for community improvements. One is a kiosk, to be located in the Plaza, that would offer contact information, with QR codes for people to connect directly with any particular topic. Another is beautification of the downtown corridor (with a common theme similar to hanging flower pots that are seen in other towns). The SDA needs more business participation for these and other projects to be successful, and also to allow more balanced collaborations with other organizations (the Time Bank has been a valuable collaborator). It would be fabulous to have businesses engage their employees with incentives to participate.

Sebastopol Neighborhood Communications Unit

The Sebastopol Neighborhood Communications Unit (SNCU)'s goal is to connect MYN leads to available neighborhood resources, local information and first responders in the event of an emergency. The SNCU intends to provide real-time management of two-way communication based on the conditions and needs of MYN neighborhoods and local shelters. The Neighborhood Communications Plan will evolve to connect local businesses and organizations with Sebastopol area neighborhoods and shelters during emergencies or disasters. We meet monthly, offer training on two-way radio communications, hold regular radio check-ins, and offer support for those interested in becoming HAMs. A website is being developed to provide public outreach and information. Our needs are for reliable funding (we do not have any currently), and for volunteers.

We offer financial assistance for swim meet costs and USA Swimming insurance membership through the DEI (diversity/equity/inclusion) Outreach Program. We collaborate with the Rotary Learn to Swim Program to provide additional volunteers to drown-proof children in the community. Our challenge right now is that we have lost the funding we relied on for over 19 years - our fireworks booth. This paid our $19,500 facility rental fee. Because of limited pool time offered us we cannot add membership to help defer costs. (We have 80 people on our wait list.) Our choices to keep our program from closing? Funding to cover the rental fee, or increased pool time to allow us to bring on more paying members.

Social Advocates for Youth's focus areas are youth homelessness, mental health services for youth ages 0-24 and their families, and youth employment. We provide street outreach services, an emergency shelter, permanent supportive housing, and community-based housing with wraparound supports. Our mental health services include grief therapy, school-based mental health services, and a Medi-Cal clinic. Our youth employment services include support with job hunting, job and interview preparation, paid work experience, career readiness presentations in local schools, and we also run an on-site career hub. We collaborate with more than 30 different community-based organizations within our county. The primary hurdle we face in improving our efforts is maintaining sustainable funding streams. Increased certainty regarding funding from year to year would allow us to better sustain and strengthen the programs we offer.

Sonoma Applied Village Services works to increase AFFORDABLE solutions for the homeless. We advocate for safe parking, RV camping and tiny villages. We need more low income housing. We perform outreach services every day placing people into the housing system and providing direct assistance. We have two permanent outreach employees. We feed people every day, providing 500-1,000 meals per week. We are working hard to start up a safe parking + tiny village and need lots of help! We receive County funding and last year raised $50K for grants and direct donations. We need to make a village. We need land and then funds for infrastructure. Our projected costs are $200,000 to open and $300,000 to operate a village in West Sonoma County. We are on the street every day. We hear directly from our clients continuously. They need food, shelter, and compassion.

Sonoma County ACES Connection

Elizabeth Smith
elizabeth@projectwholechild.com

Sonoma County ACES Connection recognizes that childhood experiences, both positive and negative, have a tremendous impact on future violence, victimization, and perpetration, and lifelong health and opportunity. These early experiences are an important public health issue. Much of the foundational research in this area has been referred to as Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs). The more adversity and trauma someone experiences as a child, the higher their risk of negative health outcomes as an adult—like diabetes, heart disease, or depression. Our work is focused on helping our communities build resilience against the effects of trauma. We support trauma informed communities, positive childhood experiences, and preventing child abuse and neglect. We provide a space for the community to come together and share resources, stories, and authentic voices.

Sonoma County Farm Trails does outreach and marketing to showcase local products and ag services, sponsors ag-related tours, hosts the Gravenstein Apple Fair, collaborates with others to address food system issues, advocates for local agriculture, and funds scholarships for young, aspiring, and established farmers/producers. The continued viability of local agriculture and the resilience of our local food systems is an important concern for us, as is keeping the Gravenstein orchards in production in West County. We are in need of sponsorships and grants for our initiatives. The fires and pandemic, combined with loss of tourism (TOT) funds, have caused a devastating $100,000 drop in our funding for 2021. We are also in need of volunteers for the Gravenstein Apple Fair event, which requires up to 500 volunteer shifts to be filled. We also need help updating and repairing our directional signage for the Apple Fair (the signage helps minimize traffic jams in Sebastopol and guides folks to Ragle Park for the Fair).

SRJC Climate Action Night

At the annual Climate Action Night, high school and SRJC college student groups present on climate-related legislation and ordinances being considered at the national, state, and local level. The yearly event is in late April (April 29th this year). Students educate the public about proposed governmental solutions to the climate crisis and show the public how they can help legislation pass. The event also teaches students about the political process at state and local levels and how they can advocate for change with their elected leaders. This spring was the 3rd annual event. Co-chairs of the event also set up lobbying meetings between student groups and state legislators. We operate on mostly volunteer efforts, but we do need funds or in-kind donations to help with our website (an experienced volunteer or ~$1000 per year to hire a professional). We collaborate with SRJC, Sonoma Sunrise Movement, Daily Acts, Analy, El Molino, Orchard View student Eco Clubs, 350 Sonoma and 350 Bay Area.

An environment that provides what families need for health and well being enhances school readiness and achievement. Family activities in the parks, and places to gather socially and engage with other families, all contribute to a student's success in the classroom. This already occurs in Sebastopol, but it's worth pointing out as an important goal as we look to what will help West County thrive in the future.

SEBASTOPOL GRANGE #306

Visit Sebastopol Grange #306 Website

The Sebastopol Grange supports best agricultural practices through member education. We lobby for small farmer issues, as relates to climate change and food security with the goal of fostering communities that are resilient and better prepared for disasters. We offer monthly meetings and partner with other organizations for social connections, serving a variety of groups on a range of topics. We do outreach, hold food drives, plant pollinator gardens, run produce exchanges, give school garden scholarships, and engage in climate conversations. During the pandemic, we have offered SAVS the use of our kitchen to cook meals for the homeless. We partner with many organizations and enjoy the process. The pandemic has had a severe financial impact on us. We need community support to purchase solar panels and battery systems so we can function as a shelter, pay for repairs and improvements to the Grange Hall, and continue to serve the community. We are in search of fundraising energy and assistance.

The Gravenstein Lions Club provides eye care (eye exams and glasses) to any child in need in West Sonoma County. We do pre-school eye screening and provide eye care to local adults in need, including covering the cost of cataract surgery. We collect eyeglasses to provide to others within California and in third world countries. We donate to Ceres Community Project and the Redwood Empire Food Bank (REFB), and have volunteered at REFB. Finally, we provide $500 scholarships to Laguna high school students, and support a variety of other youth-related efforts in town. From 2013 through 2020 we donated almost $115,000 to 25 non-profit organizations. Our recent challenge is that we lost the funding from our fireworks booth. We are interested in working with other service clubs and nonprofit organizations to develop a replacement fundraiser, and to improve our current efforts and better recognize new needs that can be addressed. Our goal is to continue our good work for the community.

Soroptimist is a global volunteer organization that provides women and girls with access to the education and training they need to achieve economic empowerment. Anyone can join, and we encourage you to inquire about becoming a member. Our signature project is the “Live Your Dream” scholarship, which provides local women (who are head of household, with dependents) with going back to school scholarship to support their education.

We rechartered our club back in 2019 in order to bring together like minded individuals with a focus on empowering and educating women and girls.

St. Stephen's Episcopal Church welcomes individuals of every race, nationality, gender, age, ability, sexual orientation, and economic circumstance to participate fully in the life of the church as we seek to respond to God's call to be a people of compassion and love. We host The Inter-Church Food Pantry, which provides emergency food to people living in the greater Sebastopol area. The Pantry is a collaborative effort of a group of Sebastopol churches. We also participate in the Saturday Table. Every third Saturday of the month St. Stephen's parishioners along with members of Occidental Laguna Sangha prepare and serve a hot lunch to those in need in our larger community.
